If students enjoy studying and want to expand their knowledge and skills

The institution is here to help. We understand that some students may need more time to complete their studies, and we want to encourage everyone to succeed. Therefore, if you need extra time to complete your program, please note the following:

- Graduate Diploma Programs and the Higher Graduate Diploma Programs, take 1.5 years (3 semesters) with a maximum study period of 3 years (6 semesters).
- For a 2-year master's degree program (4 semesters), the maximum study duration is 4 years (8 semesters).
- For a 3-year doctoral program (6 semesters), the maximum study period is 6 years (12 semesters).
- In a 4-year doctoral program (8 semesters), the maximum study period is 8 years (16 semesters).
- For the duration of other available graduate programs, it is twice that of the specified duration.

If a student has reached the maximum study period of their program without yet graduating, there are several options available to maintain their student status. These options are as follows:

1. Request to extend the study period by one semester at a time. This request must be made during the last semester and must be completed before the end of the semester.
2. Request a transfer of academic results to the curriculum at the Panyapiwat Institute of Management, where the teaching is organized.
3. Request to accumulate academic results in the credit bank of the Institute for Lifelong Learning. The Dean will consider and approve this request, taking into account the maximum benefits for the student.

The student can receive a scholarship under the criteria and requirements for eligibility and the obligations of the recipients.

If any further questions, please inquire at Student Registration Status and Student's Information Service, the Office of Registration and Education Assessment

How to request academic credit accumulation in "PIM Learning PLUS" (credit bank) of the institution.

"PIM Learning PLUS (Credit Bank)" is a platform that registers academic results and credits for students. It covers formal education, non-formal education, and informal education, such as training courses. The aim of the platform is to provide learners and workers with an opportunity to connect their learning and work experience to accumulate credits in the Credit Bank. This is done by using reliable evidence as a component in calculating credits for accumulation.

Here are some examples of evidence that can be taken into account for transferring to accumulate credits. They are:

1. Transcript of academic results in the course of study.
2. Results of tests by reliable agencies for certifying abilities, such as TOEIC and TOEFL scores.
3. Certificates from short-term courses obtained from various organizations, including educational institutions, government agencies, and the Professional Qualification Center.
4. Other necessary documents including certificates of work experience and proof of the individual's professional knowledge and expertise.

"How to accumulate credits and use the results of credit accumulation"

Students can bring evidence of completed coursework and request credit transfer through the credit finance department at Panyapiwat Institute of Management in various channels provided.

1. Apply to collect credits

3. Accumulate credits

2. Provide evidence that can be submitted for transfer

4. Apply for the program you want to graduate from and study another 1/4 of the credits throughout the program in order to receive a degree.

For new PIM students, credits can be automatically accumulated into the institution's credit treasury system or "PIM Learning PLUS". The institution has asked every new student to consent to accumulate credits.

If a student exceeds the maximum study period of their program or if other learners are interested in accumulating credits through PIM Learning PLUS (credit bank) at Panyapiwat Institute of Management, they can accumulate credits to transfer them to the degree of their choice. Alternatively, they can request a student certificate from the credit bank and receive a report of their credit accumulation results. The decision to do so depends mainly on the needs of the students.
